Last summer my parents and I stayed in a tree house hotel in Costa Rica. It wasn't my first time in a tree house because we had one in our garden when I was a child. But the hotel was bigger and more beautiful! I even met some people my age there and I often chat with them on the Net. I really want to go there again.

I visited my friend, Sunil, in Kerala, India some years ago. He wanted to take me on a houseboat for two days. In the beginning, I didn't want to go because I can't swim. I finally went and my first time on a boat was great. The water was very calm, so I wasn't frightened at all. The local people were relaxed and friendly, but the houseboat was not very comfortable. Of course, I didn't mind because I had a great time.
