2 066 Listen and read. Where can you see a lot of sport?

Noah, Denmark

I love Copenhagen because I can ride my bike everywhere. Nine out of ten people have a bike in Denmark and you learn to ride one before you go to school. There are 400 kilometres of bike paths in Copenhagen, so it's very safe! We also have two amazing bridges just for bikes: Circle Bridge and Snake Bridge!

Copenhagen is also a special city because there are so many parks, gardens and squares. At the weekend, I usually ride my bike with friends to a big park, like Fælledparken. You can do lots of sports there, and even play chess. It's my favourite park because one of the best skateparks in Europe is there!

Isla, Australia

It's great to live in Melbourne. The beaches are the best and I go most weekends. This summer my brother and I are having surf lessons!

I also love the Docklands. I like going to the shopping centre there or going to the ice rink with my friends. And for a special day, you can go on the Star Wheel and see all of the city.

Sport is important in Melbourne, especially cricket and football. I usually play cricket at the beach, but one day, I'd like to see a cricket match at The G. It's the biggest stadium in Australia, and they play football there, too.
