Vicky and David are kind to their mother

Last weekend David and Vicky went to the shops with their mother. First they drove to the supermarket. Then Mum needed some stamps and envelopes so they walked to the post office. On the way there they went past a shoe shop. They looked in the window and Mum said, 'Those pink shoes are so beautiful – but I don't have enough money.'

Later Mum rang her friend and told her about the shoes. David and Vicky heard her conversation.

David said to Vicky, 'Let's buy Mum the shoes!' 'That's a great idea,' said Vicky, 'but how?' 'Let's find some jobs. Then we can get some money to buy the shoes,' said David.

So the children rang their grandparents and explained their idea. They spent the next day at their grandparents' house. David cut the grass and Vicky planted some flowers and tidied the garden. Then both children washed the car and cleaned the house. When they finished, Grandma and Grandpa gave Vicky and David some money and said, 'Well done! That's excellent work, children!'
