THE UTOPIA OF SHARING IN ONEIDA

Nineteenth-century visitors to the Oneida Village in central New York State found a family of 300 members who lived in a large beautiful house and shared everything.

Twenty-first century visitors who stay in one of Oneida's eight guest rooms pay $ 100 for a comfortable bedroom, a simple breakfast and a private tour of the 10.300-square- meter museum house. Which also contains 35 private apartments.

Like me, many visitors had relatives among those nineteenth - century dreamers. Others just want to see for themselves the building where it is said that the most successful social group in American history lived .

"I don't know of anywhere else where you can live in a museum ," said the director of Oneida House. "It' s very unusual."

A man named John Humphrey Noyes and a small group of people moved to New York State in 1848. They wanted a place where they could live according to their particular beliefs, in their efforts to create a more equal society.

They owners share the building with guests who stay in large comfortably- furnished bedrooms with private baths. The library and lounge and the grounds of the building are open to guests, as are several of the museum's public rooms.

The old library, unchanged from the nineteenth century, holds a rich ; collection of nineteenth-century books and magazines, which learners ; used to study Latin and Greek, algebra and astronomy.

TOMORROW'S CARS

CO₂, a gas that is part of the atmosphere, is important for many parts of nature like plants, as it helps them make their own food. We make CO₂ when we use petrol cars. This is now dangerous for our world because these cars have sent a lot of CO₂ into the air. Then, using electric cars instead of petrol cars is one excellent way to stop problems like changes in the weather. In the United Kingdom not many cars are electric; so the government, those who are the managers of the country, believes there is a lot to do to make electric cars a good change and have a better world to live in. They also believe that it will help the UK become the first country in the world to make cars that send much less CO₂ into the air. Some pro-nature groups that work to make the world better believe this plan will not work and say that it is too late to stop CO₂ from petrol cars. In the past two years, the British government has spent billions of pounds studying how to make electric cars and how to make the British use them. Now they are ready to help companies make more electric cars and less petrol ones and hybrid cars, which work with both petrol and electricity.

BENEFITS OF EXERCISING

If you want to be healthy and live longer, you must learn about exercising. Recently I have read a lot about this topic and I have put into practice a program, which has improved not only my energy levels but also my feelings.

I strongly recommend that everybody do at least one hour of physical activity everyday because through it, people will have the same benefits.

Exercising helps both body and mind. It makes people feel happy and more peaceful. Since starting my exercise program, I can say that I have been sleeping well, and feeling better about myself. It also helps one look fit because it burns calories and reduces your weight. Thanks to my exercise plan, I have lost five kilos in a few months and look fantastic.

Another important benefit is the lower probability of developing certain conditions such as diabetes and heart problems.

If you decide to start an exercise program, I advise you to make it interesting and fun. When you set up your own timetable, make sure you can afford it. Once you have organized your schedule, I suggest talking to an expert and asking for recommendations regarding your target level of fitness. Don't forget to show your doctor your exercise plan to make sure it's not too much.

I'll definitely keep up my exercise program and the great thing about it is that it's never too late to start. Why don't you give it a try? It's a great way to change your life!

TELEVISIÓN

Life is short! Who has time to waste? Not. If you are really honest with yourself you'll notice that you may be spending too much time on television and there are better things you could be doing. Whether you watch televisión or not is your decisión. But consider this first. Some people say TV is educational, but it is an ineffective medium for learning. Though there is a great variety of programs and sometimes they are interesting, many TV shows offer information that is not accurate. If you really want to learn something, you should read it for yourself.

TV can help you keep informed and it is necessary to know what is happening with people and places around you. However, if you watch the average news program, you have to waste a long time on useless information. If you really want to be up-to-date, read the newspaper; it is more detailed and you can choose which stories you read.

The average adult spends about: 2 hours a day watching TV. Let's say you lived to age 60; you would have spent 5 years of your life in front of the televisión. Not only could you be catching up with your family during that time, since watching TV with them it is not real interaction, but you are also preventing yourself from having new experiences. Do you know what you could do with those extra years? Here's some advice: create some art, talk to people, exercise, learn a foreign language or how to play an instrument.

Using those two hours a day for something you "don't have time for," will make you have time for a lot more.

38. What is the author trying to do with the text?

- A. Warn about consequences after a long time watching TV.
- B. Explain why televisión is important to keep up-to-date.
- C. Describe people who spend hours in front of the screen.
- D. Suggest that there are better leisure activities than TV.

39. What might a person decide to do after reading this article?

- A. Watch less televisión.
- B. Consider visual learning.
- C. Try to become an artist.
- D. Keep informed by watching TV.

40. According to the text, knowledge from TV.

- A. Is always useful for learning.
- B. Is limited since it does not have diverse topics.
- C. Gives specific descriptions of events.
- D. Contains many things not: worth learning.

41. In the text, "5 years" refers to the time that.

- A. An average person watches TV in a lifetime.
- B. You need to become an expert TV viewer.
- C. Someone takes to become addicted to TV.
- D. TV needs to teach us something interesting.

42. Which of the following statements would the writer make?

- A. I must admit sometimes I am so busy that I watch TV instead of reading the newspaper.
- B. I can speak Italian and cook French food thanks to TV shows I used to watch.
- C. One day I realized I needed more contact with real people and situations than with televisión.
- D. I believe true artists should take advantage of televisión as a resource to learn and practice.
