Rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets so that it keeps the same meaning. Use a full expression (not just one word).

1. It's hard to handle all the complicated family dynamics after the divorce.

2. If my partner hid big debts from me, I would immediately end the relationship.

3. The school knows there's bullying, but they pretend nothing is happening.

4. I spent years thinking about that one stupid comment instead of letting it go.

5. One day he sends sweet messages, the next day he disappears completely.

6. Her choice of outfit for the funeral shocked quite a few relatives.

7. I avoid people who are always dramatic and negative.

8. If you never say thank you, people might think you're ungrateful.

- dealbreaker
- to dwell on
- come off as
- play hot and cold
- raise eyebrows (when someone does smth controversial)
- steer clear of
- turn a blind eye to
- navigate (e.g. relationships, conflicts, life)

LIVEWORKSHEETS