Summary – "The Enemy" Chapter 7 (Part VII)

In this chapter, Dr. Sadao leaves the …… after hearing the plan to send ……. to kill the American prisoner. He feels relieved because the ……. will no longer be his. He decides not to tell Hana about the plan because she would be ……. by the idea of assassins in their house.

Later, Sadao is ……. to see the American soldier, Tom, out of bed and feeling much better. Tom thanks Sadao sincerely for ……. life and says that if all Japanese people were like him, there would not have been a war. Sadao feels emotional and finds it difficult to respond.

That night, Sadao cannot sleep well because he keeps expecting the assassins to …….. He hears small sounds in the garden and imagines they are coming to kill the American. However, when morning comes, the American is still sleeping ……..

The same thing happens on the second and third nights. Sadao and Hana hear sounds outside and feel nervous, but the assassins never appear. Each morning Sadao checks the guest room and finds that the American is still alive and ……..

By the end of the chapter, the American soldier looks stronger and happier. He has shaved and says that he now feels well, while Sadao realizes that the General's plan has not been ……..

WHAT WILL SADAO DO NOW???

LIVEWORKSHEETS