

Reading: The History of Video Games

Today, millions of children play video games, but the first games started many years ago. They changed a lot!

The First Games

In the 1970s, video games appeared in big machines. One famous game was Pong. It looked like a tennis match. People played it in shopping centers. Later, a company created the first home consoles. Children stayed at home and enjoyed games on their TV.

The Legend of Mario

In 1981, a Japanese designer invented a character called Mario. At first, Mario jumped over barrels to save a princess. People loved the character! The creator worked very hard and designed many levels. Soon, Mario became a superstar (but he started as a simple 2D pixel).

Online Games and Minecraft

In the past, children played alone. Then, the internet changed everything. Players connected with friends from different countries. A man developed a game called Minecraft. In this game, players constructed houses and explored huge worlds with blocks. It transformed the way we play today!
