A Day at the Sports Centre

Last weekend, a group of students visited a large sports centre to try different activities. When they arrived, a referee explained the rules of each sport and encouraged them to try new things.

First, they watched a baseball game where the pitcher threw the ball very fast and the batter tried to hit it. Some students even wore mitts and practised catching the ball themselves. Later, they moved to another area where people were training in gymnastics and weightlifting. The students were impressed by the strength and balance required in both sports. Outside, a horse-riding activity was taking place, and the riders carefully controlled their horses using a rein and sat on a saddle.

In the afternoon, the group watched a football match. The game was very close, so it ended with a penalty shoot-out, which made the crowd extremely excited. After the event, the students trooped off to get some food, still talking about their favourite moments of the day.

Overall, the trip helped them understand different sports better and encouraged many of them to try new activities in the future.
