

A Weekend Plan with Friends

This weekend, the weather will be sunny and warm, so Laura is going to go out with her friends. They usually like spending time outdoors when the weather is nice. On Saturday morning, Laura is going to wake up early and meet her friends at a café. They are going to have breakfast and talk about their plans for the day.

After that, they are going to go to the park. They want to play some games and listen to music. If it gets too hot, they will sit under a tree and relax. Laura thinks it will be a very fun day because they all enjoy being outside.

In the afternoon, they are going to walk around the city and maybe buy some snacks. If they feel tired, they will sit down and have a drink. One of her friends loves taking photos, so she will take many pictures of them.

On Sunday, the weather will be different. It is going to rain, so Laura thinks she will stay in at home. She is going to watch a movie and maybe clean up her room. If she feels bored, she will call a friend or go online to chat.

Laura likes making plans for the weekend because it helps her organize her time.

Even if the weather changes, she always finds something fun to do.
