BANK ROBBERY

The city (0) of Chur, Switzerland had some excitement on Thursday when a 55 year-old Czech walked into a bank with a pistol, shooting into the ceiling twice, terrifying patrons. Nobody was hurt in the incident but the man managed to walk _____ from the bank with several tens of thousands of Swiss Francs. The suspect was found soon after, sitting in a pub calmly, drinking a beer, reported a Swiss daily Tages-Anzeiger.

The owner of the establishment where the suspect _____ caught told the police that 'The man acted normally and ordered a beer. He said he was hungry and _____ go for a Schnitzel. I offered him a croissant or a cake, but he stayed at the beer.'

Police reported that the man entered the bank shortly after 9:00 am. He shot his pistol twice, but did not aim it _____ anyone. He carried off several tens of thousands of Francs. He was arrested about half an hour later thanks _____ witnesses.

The enterprising owner of the restaurant _____ since posted a sign reading 'You don't need to rob a bank to buy a beer here.' Unfortunately, the owner told the newspaper that the suspect did not pay for his beer and owes her 6 CHF or about CZK 140.