Hoi An – An Ancient and Peaceful Town

Hoi An is a famous ancient town in Quang Nam province, in the middle of Vietnam. It is known for its old houses and beautiful colorful lanterns. The streets are small and quiet because cars are not allowed in the center at certain times. Visitors should walk or ride a bicycle to see the town. They mustn't make too much noise or damage the old buildings to keep the town peaceful. Tourists love taking photos on the Covered Bridge and going on a boat trip on the Hoai River. At night, they can drop flower lanterns on the river to make a wish. People can buy beautiful silk clothes and handmade souvenirs in the local shops. They can also enjoy delicious traditional food like Cao Lau and chicken rice. Hoi An is one of the best places to see the beauty of Vietnamese history.

Swans are the largest birds in the duck family. There are six different kinds (1) swans which have white bodies, but in a few parts of the world there are black swans too. Swans are clever and remember people who have (2) kind or unkind to them! A frightened (3) really angry swan can break a man's leg (4) its strong wings! Swans live on rivers and lakes. But in the winter months, some might live near the sea because salt water is usually a little (5) than river water. Swans don't usually fly very far from the place. (6) they build their nests. It takes between 35 and 42 days for a baby swan, which (7) called a 'cygnet', to break open its egg! A baby swan can be grey (8) white. Wild swans usually live for about seven years, but some live a lot longer. A swan eats underwater plants. It finds these by putting its long neck deep into the water and its tail up into the air! Swans might also eat small frogs and insects.

Katy and Michael both enjoy playing computer games. Last summer they talked a lot about designing online games and apps, as well. In the future, they both want to be designers like their father.

In the autumn, they decided to design an app to help kids choose comics or story books. They agreed about something important. Children must enjoy using the app. It mustn't be boring.

'Well, we could make something appear on the screen each time they choose a book,' Michael said.

'OK! What about a really strange creature that hops across the screen, or perhaps we could show rain that changes into a rainbow?'

'Brilliant!' said Michael. 'Shall we ask Dad about this?' 'Yes, let's ask him now,' said Katy.

Their father loved the idea. 'Here's an amazing program,' he said. 'You can use it to make your app. And don't worry. I can help.' Last month Katy and Michael's app appeared online for the first time!

A journalist who wrote for a computer magazine called them about it. 'I'd like to write about you in the magazine. Which do you enjoy most, now?' he asked. 'Designing apps or playing games?'

'Designing apps!' Katy and Michael answered.

'OK! And I'll need a photo of you. Can we come round and take one?'

'You don't have to do that!' Katy laughed. 'We'll text you one!'

Example: Jack and his mum went to the shops one daylast week.....

1. They didn't want the app to be.....
2. A journalist who worked phoned them when he heard about their app.
3. The children now think is more fun than playing computer games.
