

A wicked wizard lived in a dark tower. He was a cruel and selfish master to a tiny timid sprite. The sprite was always obedient because it was afraid. A fierce dragon guarded the tower's treasure.

One day, a curious girl named Lily came to the forest. She met a wise old tree who gave her a special book. Lily wanted to visit the tower, but the fierce dragon was too scary. The sprite saw Lily and decided not to be obedient to the cruel wizard.

With the sprite's help, Lily got a key and entered the tower. She showed the wizard the book. His fierce anger disappeared. He was not proud anymore. He was just very lonely. The dragon became calm and gentle. Now the wizard is no fierce. He and his new friends are happy.
