Charlie's blog

In 2012, my family went to stay in New Jersey, in the USA, for a year. My dad was working in a town called Asbury Park. Asbury Park is famous because a lot of musicians come from there. In October we were enjoying our new home, when Hurricane Sandy arrived. It was the biggest storm that year. I was very frightened. We were lucky because nothing bad happened to us, but our neighbour broke his leg when a tree fell on him. The hurricane was terrible. Lots of people lost their homes.

Two months later, there was a concert in New York – the 12.12.12 Concert. Musicians from New Jersey, New York and Britain played at it. They played for free and the organizers gave money from the concert to help build houses again.
