

● SPEECH 3: ENDANGERED ANIMALS

Endangered animals are species that are at risk of (1) _____. If nothing is done, these animals may disappear forever. This situation is caused by illegal (2) _____, habitat loss, pollution, and climate change. If this problem continues, ecosystems will become (3) _____. Each species plays an important role in nature. As a result, humans may face (4) _____ shortages and environmental instability. A clear example is (5) _____ turtles, which are endangered due to plastic pollution. To protect these animals, governments should create wildlife (6) _____ laws and establish (7) _____ reserves. People should stop buying products made from animal (8) _____, which encourages illegal hunting. Students can raise (9) _____ at school to help protect (10) _____ and the balance of nature. In conclusion, protecting endangered animals means protecting ecosystems and human life as well.