Everyone has a picture of their dream house in their mind. For me, my dream house is a place where I feel truly happy and comfortable. I have three main ideas for how I would like it to be.

First, I want my dream house to be close to nature. I imagine it next to a forest or a lake. I love the idea of waking up every morning and seeing trees, flowers and birds outside my window. It would be peaceful and quiet. I could go for a walk in the fresh air or have a picnic in my garden with my family and friends.

Second, my dream house should have big windows that let in plenty of sunlight. Natural light would make the rooms bright and cheerful. I would also like to have a balcony where I can sit and enjoy a cup of tea, read a book or watch the sunset in the evening.

Finally, I want a cosy living room where everyone can relax together. It will have a comfortable sofa and a fireplace. We can watch movies, play games or talk about our day. I think it is important to have a warm space for family moments.

In conclusion, my dream house must be close to nature, full of light and have a warm living room. These ideas make me excited about the future. Maybe one day, my dream house will become real!
