Pet Peeves

What Really Bothers Me

Everyone has small habits or situations that annoy them. For me, one thing that really gets on my nerves is people who speak loudly on their phones in quiet places. I understand that people need to answer calls, but I can't stand strangers who act as if nobody else is around them.

The thing that I hate the most is when people leave a mess in public places. I especially dislike restaurants where customers leave food and trash on the tables for workers to clean up. One thing that frustrates me is friends who arrive late without sending a message or apologizing.

Something that really bugs me is when people play videos without headphones on public transportation. I also dislike neighbors who play loud music late at night. The thing that embarrasses me is when people chew loudly during meals.

Even though these situations are annoying, I try to stay calm and patient. After all, everyone has habits that bother other people sometimes.
