

Reduction of Relative clauses	1.With verb to be
Don't forget to take out WHO and the verb to be ---and use the rest of the idea

Examples

Someone WHO IS resourceful is considered as creative

Reduce version: Someone resourceful is considered as creative

Reduction of Relative clauses	2. With a verb
Don't forget to hake out WHO --- and use the verb with ING and the rest of the idea

Examples

A person WHO use imagination could be considered as creative

Reduce version: A person USING imagination could be considered as creative

Reduction of Relative clauses	3. With have/ has
Don't forget to take out WHO and the verb have --- use with and the rest of the idea

Examples

A person WHO has a great voice is considered as creative

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Reduce version: A person WITH a great voice is considered as creative

Let's practice!

1. The man who is standing by the door is my uncle.

_____

1. The books that were written by her became bestsellers.

_____

1. The students who are waiting outside are getting impatient.

_____

1. The car that is parked in front of the house belongs to my neighbor.

_____

1. The woman who is talking on the phone looks worried.

_____

1. The documents that were sent yesterday should arrive soon.

_____

1. After she had finished her homework, she went out to play.

_____

1. After they had won the match, the team celebrated all night.

_____

LIVEWORKSHEETS