Yesterday, my friend rahul and i visited the red fort in delhi during our summer vacation. Our teacher, mr sharma, had asked the students of bright future school to prepare a report on historical monuments. While travelling, we crossed the yamuna river and saw many tourists from india and france. After visiting the monument, we went to chandni chowk market and ate delicious sweets. Later, my cousin Riya bought a book about emperor akbar from a small bookstore. On monday evening, we returned home by train and shared our experiences with our family members.
