

My Unforgettable Independence Day

Last August 17th, my school celebrated Indonesian Independence Day with many games and competitions. I felt very happy because I joined three competitions: sack race, marble-in-spoon race, and kerupuk race.

On that morning, all students gathered in the school field. First, I participated in the sack race. I jumped as fast as I could, but I fell once. Fortunately, I finished in second place. I was tired but excited.

After that, I joined the marble-in-spoon race. This game was difficult because the marble kept falling. I walked slowly and carefully. Finally, I arrived at the finish line. I didn't win, but I was proud of myself.

In the afternoon, the most fun competition began: kerupuk race. I stood in front of a hanging kerupuk. I put my hands behind my back. I ate the kerupuk quickly without using my hands. It was messy but delicious! I won first place!

My friends and I shouted "Merdeka!" together. At the end of the day, I went home with a happy heart. I felt that independence day taught me about effort and joy. I will never forget that day.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

WORKSHEET 1

DRAG AND DROP (MATCHING)

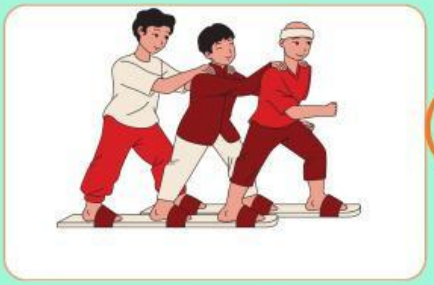

Match each picture description with the correct name of the competition. Drag the correct word to the box under each picture.

Panjat Pinang

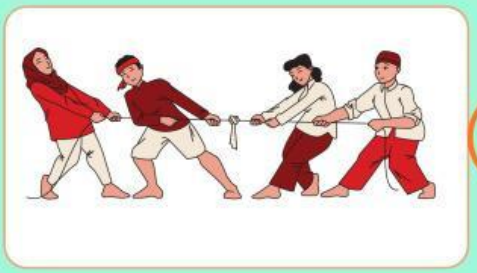

Sack race

Tug of war

Kerupuk race

Tandem race

LIVEWORKSHEETS

WORKSHEET 2

FILL IN THE BLANK.

Complete the story below by choosing the correct past tense verb from the box.

1. Last August 17th, my school _____ Independence Day.

2. I _____ fast as I could.

3. My friends and I _____ "Merdeka!" together.

4. The marble _____ many times.

5. We _____ home in the afternoon.

6. I _____ three competitions.

7. I _____ the kerupuk without using my hands.

8. The day _____ me about effort and joy.

9. I _____ very happy that day.

10. I _____ first place in cracker eating.

LIVEWORKSHEETS