Watch the video and complete the sentences. Write NO MORE THAN TWO WORDS in each blank.

- Food allergies and food intolerances each require a _____ treatment.
- In a food allergy, the immune system responds to _____ proteins in certain foods.
- Allergic reactions usually happen quickly, often within 30 _____ of eating the food.
- A food intolerance means the body has trouble _____ certain foods.
- Celiac disease is triggered by eating foods containing _____.
- At-home food-sensitivity kits are not _____ diagnostic tools.
- An allergist can diagnose you by taking a good _____ and giving you an oral food challenge.

VOCABULARY

I. Write the words/phrases based on the information and clues given.

1. l _____ -t _____	very dangerous and possibly able to cause death
2. b _____	an uncomfortable feeling when your stomach feels full, swollen, or tight
3. c _____ of a _____	a plan or set of steps to deal with a problem
4. s _____ p _____	shown to be true or effective through scientific tests or research
5. e _____ to s _____	contact with something, especially something that may affect your body

II. Read the text and find a word/phrase from the passage to complete each sentence below. Write NO MORE THAN TWO WORDS in each blank.

Ethan often felt sick after drinking milk, but he did not know the reason. At first, his parents thought he had a food allergy, so they told him to avoid many different foods. However, his doctor explained that the problem might be a food intolerance, not an allergy. A food allergy involves the immune system, while a food intolerance usually means the body has trouble dealing with a certain food.

After asking Ethan about his meals, the doctor said he might be lactose intolerant. This means his body does not have enough of an enzyme to break down lactose, a type of sugar found in milk. When lactose is not digested well, it can cause digestive issues such as stomach pain, diarrhea, and bloating.

The doctor also explained that this was not the same as celiac disease, an autoimmune condition that can damage the small intestine. To get a proper diagnosis, Ethan needed to keep a food diary and write down how he felt after each meal. After two weeks, the doctor suggested a simple course of action: Ethan should reduce dairy products and choose lactose-free milk when possible.

1. Ethan's problem was probably a _____, not a food allergy.
2. The doctor thought Ethan might be _____.
3. Ethan's body may not be able to _____ lactose well.
4. Stomach pain, diarrhea, and bloating are examples of _____ issues.
5. One symptom mentioned in the passage is _____.
6. Celiac disease can damage the _____.
7. Ethan needed a proper _____ before changing his diet.

III. Read the text and decide if the statements are True or False.

Food Reactions

Emily often felt sick after drinking milk. She had stomach pain and bloating, but she did not have a rash or trouble breathing. Her doctor said it was probably a food intolerance, not a food allergy. A food allergy involves the immune system and can sometimes be life-threatening.

The doctor thought Emily might be lactose intolerant. This means her body may not be able to break down lactose in dairy products. To get a proper diagnosis, Emily needed to keep a food diary.

The doctor also said at-home food-sensitivity kits are not always scientifically proven. For serious food allergies, an oral food challenge should only happen in a safe, controlled environment.

Statements:

1. Emily felt sick after drinking milk. → _____
