

Lesson 03

Date:

Let's work!

Speaking: What are they doing?

cut the cucumber – wash the lettuce – carry the apples – prepare a soup – cook the chicken mixture the salad – fry the fish – serve the tables – read the messages on the board
help the chef

Reading comprehension:

Read the text. Match paragraphs 1-5 with the headings below (a-e).

- a Educational advantages
- b Step-siblings
- c Introduction
- d Girl power
- e Learning important skills

- 1) ___ We don't always get on well with our brothers and sisters – but we get a lot of benefits from them. Research shows that siblings have a big effect on our personalities – and in general, it's a good effect.
- 2) ___ When you're young, you argue with your brothers and sisters. It's part of life. Why? Because you learn important skills from these arguments. And according to research, you don't get these skills from friends, only from siblings.
- 3) ___ A big brother or sister is also an advantage at school. According to research, when your big brother or sister does well at school, you do well too. They can also give you important information about your school and your teachers.
- 4) ___ Some benefits are only true when your sibling is a girl. For example, according to research at the University of Ulster, in Northern Ireland, boys with sisters are usually good at talking about emotions. This helps them to be happy, because when they feel worried about something, they can share their feelings.
- 5) ___ But what about stepbrothers and stepsisters? The answer is: yes, they do – but only when they are part of the family for six years or more.

Listening:

https://english4real.com/practice/a1_I2-03.html

Listening Part 2.

Name: Tom Hill

- 1) Lives: _____
- 2) How old: _____
- 3) Father's name: _____
- 4) Mother's name: _____
- 5) What hurts: _____

Speaking: Translation.

- Mivecino, que trabaja en un supermercado, siempre cuenta chistes.
- Ayer mi mamá cocinaba mientras yo limpiaba mi habitación.
- Todos estaban durmiendo, cuando de repente el perro ladró. (bark)
- Aunque ella es tímida, Lola habló frente a toda la clase.
- Nosotros iremos a un museo mañana.
- El chico cuyo perro es muy grande juega al básquet conmigo.
- Mi amiga habla italiano. Además, ella estudia japonés.
- Él estaba escuchando música mientras sus amigos jugaban afuera.
- Mi hermana no solo ama los gatos sino que también quiere ser veterinaria.
- Yo quería comprar entradas; sin embargo, yo no tenía plata.
- El año pasado visitamos una ciudad la cual tenía muchos edificios antiguos.
- Ella practica mucho; por lo tanto, toca la guitarra muy bien.
- Tomas estaba jugando fútbol cuando de repente, él se cayó.
- Mi profesor, que vive cerca de mi casa, viajará a Chile el próximo mes.
- Nosotros estábamos jugando monopoly cuando de repente, la luz se cortó.

Speaking: Where are the mice?

PLACES IN THE KITCHEN

cupboard	oven	glass	plate	cup
drawer	chair	salt	sink
piece of cheese	saucepan	door	cat

PREPOSITIONS

in front of	next to	in behind	under	on
on top of	between	