

Happy Birthday!

TOM'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Next Sunday is Tom's birthday. He is going to have a party at home. Tom is going to invite his friends: Ben, Lucy and Sam. He is going to send birthday cards to them.

Tom's mum is going to buy a big birthday cake with candles. She is also going to buy colourful balloons. Tom's dad is going to buy a present for Tom — a new robot.

Tom's friends are going to come to the party at 3 o'clock. They are going to give presents to Tom. Lucy is going to give a birthday card. Ben is going to give a Lego set. Sam is going to give a funny book.

At the party, they are going to have fun: play games, eat cake and sing "Happy Birthday". Tom is very happy.

EXERCISES

TASK 1. Make sentences negative and interrogative

Tom is going to invite his friends.

? Is Tom going to invite his friends?

✗ Tom is NOT going to invite his friends.

1. Tom is going to have a party at home.

? _____

✗ _____

2. They are going to play games.

? _____

✗ _____

3. Lucy is going to give a birthday card.

?

×

4. We are going to eat cake.

?

×

5. Mum is going to buy balloons.

?

×

TASK 2. Answer the questions

1. Why is Tom happy?

2. What are Tom's friends going to give him?

3. What is Tom going to do before the party?

4. What time are friends going to come to the party?

5. Do you think Tom will like his presents? Why?

TASK 3. Fill in the gaps

have fun	birthday card	candle	invite
friends	come to a party	birthday cake
	balloons	present

1. Tom is going to _____ to his party.

2. Tom's mum is going to buy a _____ and _____.

3. Tom's dad is going to buy a _____ for Tom.
4. Lucy is going to give a _____ to Tom.
5. On the cake, there is one _____.
6. The children are going to _____.
7. Ben, Lucy and Sam are going to _____ at 3 o'clock.

TASK 4. Write about your birthday party

Используй be going to и слова: invite friends, birthday cake, candles, balloons, give presents, have fun
