

Reading Comprehension: Lawyers and Their Duties

Focus: Have to / Don't have to / has to / doesn't have to

David is a lawyer. He works in a law office in the city. Every day, he has to arrive at work at 9:00 a.m. He has to meet clients and read legal documents. He also has to go to court when there is a case.

David has to follow the law and respect the judge. He has to keep all client information secret.

However, David doesn't have to work on weekends. He doesn't have to wear a uniform at work, but he must wear formal clothes.

In his free time, David relaxes at home. He doesn't have to think about work after office hours.

Activity:

- Choose the best answer (A, B, C, or D) for each question.
- Pay attention to the meaning of have to (obligation) and don't have to (no obligation).
- Use the reading text to help you find the correct answers.

1. What time does David have to arrive at work?

- a) 8:00 a.m.
- b) 9:00 a.m.
- c) 10:00 a.m.
- d) 11:00 a.m.

2. What does David have to do at work?

- a) Play sports
- b) Meet clients and read documents
- c) Teach students
- d) Drive a bus

3. What does David have to do in court?

- a) Sleep
- b) Ignore the judge
- c) Respect the judge
- d) Leave early

4. What doesn't David have to do?

- a) Work on weekends
- b) Read legal documents
- c) Meet clients
- d) Follow the law

5. What doesn't David have to do after work?

- a) Relax at home
- b) Think about work
- c) Meet clients
- d) Go to court