A: Hey Mia! How was your trip?

B: Oh, it was absolutely unforgettable! You know, we spent our vacation in Thailand.

A: Thailand? That sounds amazing! What made it so special?

B: Well, it wasn't just the beautiful beaches. We learned so much about the local customs and culture. The people were incredibly kind, and the cuisine was so authentic!

A: Wow, I've always wanted to try Thai food.

B: You should! The food was unbelievable. To be honest, I didn't know it would be that remarkable. It seems to me that exploring local food is one of the most essential parts of any trip.

A: I totally agree. So, where did you go exactly?

B: We started by flying into Bangkok. The city was bustling—markets, temples, street food everywhere. Then we headed down to the islands. They were so tranquil; you could just sit and watch the sunset for hours.

A: Sounds like a dream!

B: It really was. The only problem was managing our budget. We didn't want to spend too much, but we still wanted to experience everything. Maybe next time we'll plan a better itinerary.

A: Did you buy anything special?

B: Oh yes, we bought some handmade souvenirs. And you know what? Before heading to the south, we took a cooking class!

A: That's great! So, did you have any issues with your currency or passport?

B: Funny you ask! I almost lost my passport at the airport. That was a major scare, but luckily someone returned it.

A: That's lucky! So, would you say this trip changed you?

B: Definitely. Traveling really shapes the way you see life. Personally, I believe it's crucial to discover other cultures—it makes you more open-minded
