

LISTENING PRACTICE 6

Listen and fill in the blank with NO MORE THAN THREE words

And for those of you who love the cinema, mark your (1) _____ for this year's film festival in Slotherington. Once a year for (2) _____, this small town fills up with film enthusiasts from all over Britain, as well as from other parts of the world. Last year, there were over (3) _____ shown, and this year, there are over a hundred planned. From the time the first film was shown almost five years ago, organisers of this festival have always used the word 'variety' when describing the event. This year, the word International has also been added to the name of the festival because each year more and more of the films being shown at the festival come from other countries. In fact, last year's (4) _____ was called Feilding by the young New Zealand director, Zoe Mayer. The film is set in the town of that name. We're showing it again this year! Feilding, that's (5) _____. Don't miss it! This year is the fifth anniversary of the festival. It opens on the first of July. Tickets for each film are only £4.50, but it's possible to see up to 6 films per day, so if you can spend the (6) _____ watching films, a (7) _____, at £19.50, is much better value. If you are planning on spending more than three days at the festival, you should buy the festival pass for £50. And if there are any young people listening, you might want to come along since there is a new film (8) _____ this year: Films for Children. If you are interested in films, this is one of the best events of the year, and I definitely (9) _____ it. For information on the films that will be shown, you can go to the (10) _____ festival website at www dot...
