

DIFFERENT TYPES OF SELFIE – READING AND LISTENING COMPREHENSION

Warm-up

- Have you taken a selfie lately? What type of selfie was it?
- What type of selfies do you take?
- What do you think of selfies?
- Why do you think people take so many selfies?

Pre-reading Activity

Look at the pictures of the different types of selfie.

- How many of them can you identify?
- How many of them have you taken?
- Which ones would you never take? Why?

Task 1 (track 3: Englishmen)

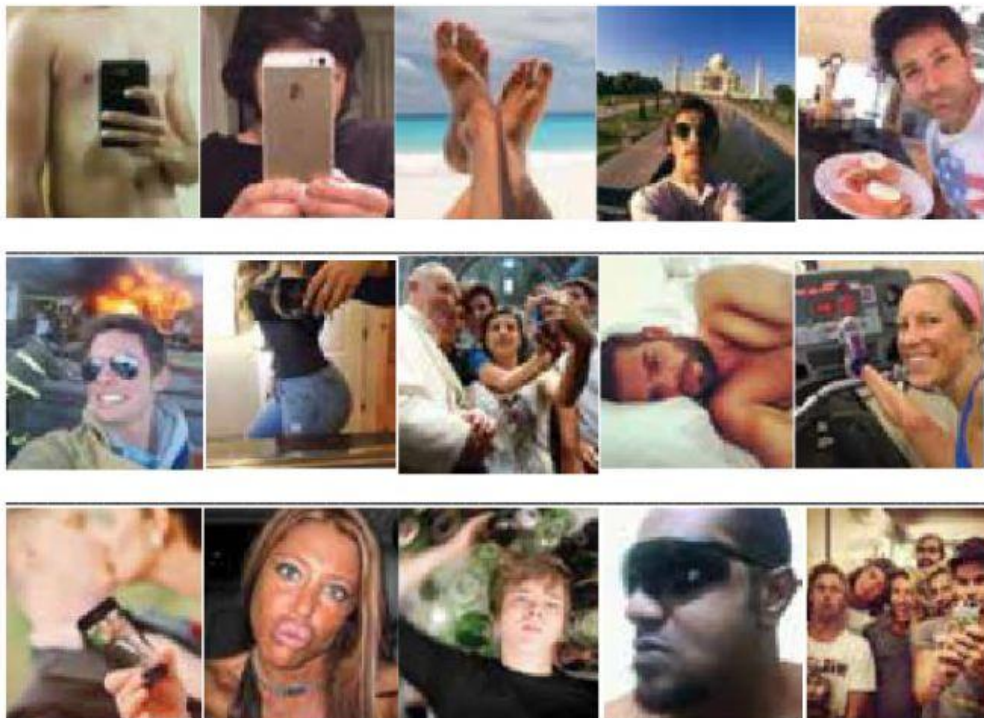

Listen to the article and write the correct type of selfie next to each statement.

1. It's often taken with a well-known person.
2. It's also known as a morning selfie.
3. It's a picture of you with big lips.
4. It's a picture of you looking awkward.
5. It's a picture of you and your partner.
6. It will make your friends jealous. (2)

- What's your favourite type of selfie? Why?
- What's your least favourite? Why?

Task 2

Look at the selfies and identify them according to the text. Write the letters A-O.

Different types of selfie!

Thousands of smartphone self-portraits or “selfies” are taken and shared every day. But not all selfies are the same.

A. The bed selfie

Take a picture of yourself in bed. Also known as a morning selfie.

B. A beach feet selfie

A picture of your feet with the sand and sea in the background. Guaranteed to make your friends jealous while they're stuck in an office.

C. A food selfie

A picture of you with a plate of food that you're about to eat.

D. The gym selfie

E. The drunk selfie

A selfie of you while you're drunk.

F. The duckface selfie

For this selfie, simply push out your lips and make them look bigger and sexier. Also known as a trout pout selfie.

G. A friends selfie

Take a horizontal picture of you with lots of friends to show just how popular you are.

H. The shy selfie

A picture of you looking shy and awkward, as if you didn't want the picture taken... even though it was you who took it!

I. Belfie

An abbreviated form of “bottom selfie”, this is a self-portrait showing your backside. This is popular among celebrities such as Kim Kardashian and Rihanna.

J. The holiday selfie

A picture of you in some exotic location. Guaranteed to make your friends jealous.

K. The famous friends selfie

Take a picture of yourself with someone famous, then let all your friends know about it.

L. The badass selfie

A picture of yourself looking really mean and hard, even though the worst thing you've ever done is to cross the road when the lights were red.

M. The happy couple selfie

A picture that says, “Look, I've got a wonderful boyfriend/girlfriend.”

N. The naked selfie

Naked selfies are often used for sexting. Democratic congressman Anthony Wiener became internationally famous after sending naked selfies to a number of women.

O. The inappropriate selfie

A selfie taken at an inappropriate moment, such as at a funeral, or like the one David McCarthy took after German cyclist Marcel Kittel had collapsed to the ground with exhaustion, or the one a young man took of himself at Eastbourne pier (in southern England), which was in flames.
