2. _____: To be real; to have actual being in the world.
3. _____: A specific form or variation of something.
4. _____: Progressing in a straight line, one step after another.
5. _____: To place things in a straight line or to bring into agreement.
6. _____: Something that stays the same and does not change.

Part 2: Sentence Completion

Fill in the blanks using the vocabulary from the word bank.

Word Bank:

Align | Version | Linear | Attract | Exists | Constant

1. In science, most people think time is linear, but some believe every _____ of our lives is happening at the same time.
2. If you want to be successful, you must _____ your actions with your goals.
3. The teacher was introducing a new theory that says a "rich you" and a "happy you" already _____.
4. It is not your fault if you are confused by these ideas; they are very different from regular science!
5. To change your life, don't just wait for the sunrise; try to put your future in the "now."

Part 3: Reading Comprehension

Read the paragraph below and answer the questions.

"String theory suggests that science is not always simple. It claims you don't attract what you want; instead, you align with what you already are. This means time is not linear (like a clock). Every version of you; the rich one, the happy one, exists right now. You can choose to be that person today."

1. True or False? According to the text, time moves only in one straight line. _____

2. Translate the phrase: "You align with what you already are."

Hebrew: _____

3. Short Answer: Based on the text, how many "versions" of you exist?

Part 4: Logic & Context

In each group of four words, one word does not belong to the same category. Circle the word that is the "odd one out" and explain why.

1. Linear / Following / Straight / Confused

- The odd word is: _____
