

UNIT 3: ART AND ARCHITECTURE

LISTENING

Exercise 1: In this unit, you will practise the skills you need to answer map labelling, multiple-choice and sentence completion questions in the IELTS Listening test. The topic of this unit is architecture. Read the information. Then choose the correct synonyms for the words and phrases in bold in the sentences.

The speakers you will hear often use synonyms or paraphrases of the words or ideas in the question. Before you listen, it is a good idea to think about other ways of saying a word or phrase.

- 1 We had our new kitchen fitted yesterday. It's much better than the old one, but it was quite expensive.
 estimated put in repaired
- 2 The old building will be orn down next week and replaced by a new set of apartments overlooking the sea.
 demolished improved renovated
- 3 Due to a number of health hazards, the building has been condemned and residents will be temporarily rehoused until permanent accommodation can be found.
 criticised declared unsafe demolished
- 4 The leak was found and fixed early enough to avoid any major damage to the apartment.
 agreed renovated repaired
- 5 The new motorway was constructed to make the journey between the two major cities faster.
 built estimated modified
- 6 The designs for the new shopping centre were modified to accommodate the lower budget.
 changed created thrown away

Exercise 2: Read the information. Then complete the table with the correct word forms (verbs, nouns or adjectives).

To really 'know' a word, you must understand how it is used in different contexts, know when it is being used as a verb, noun or adjective, and be able to recognise how it sounds. This is particularly important in the IELTS Listening test, as you may lose marks for using the wrong form of a word.

verb	noun	adjective
<input type="text"/>	innovation	_____
construct	_____	_____
_____	estimation / estimate	_____
_____	_____	modified occupy	_____ / occupancy	_____ / occupational renovate	_____	_____

Exercise 3: Read the information. Then listen to a tour guide and a park officer. Choose the correct answers.

You will often hear several possible answers for each question, but only one will be correct. The incorrect answers are called distractors. Identifying distractors will help you choose the correct answer. Remember that distractors may be synonyms or paraphrases of the words in the question.

1. (Track 3.2)

Which four days of the week are mentioned by the tour guide?

- Monday
- Tuesday
- Wednesday
- Thursday
- Friday
- Saturday
- Sunday

2. (Track 3.3)

Which five locations are mentioned by the park officer?

- children's playground

- medieval hill
- park
- pond
- public toilets

Exercise 4: Listen and choose the correct answers.

1) (Track 3.4)

What change will they make to the house?

- enlarge the living space demolish the roof redecorate the exterior

2) (Track 3.5)

What day will the tourists visit the former residence of the monarchy?

- Wednesday Thursday Friday Saturday Sunday

Exercise 5: Read the information. Then listen and write the correct letters, A–H.(Track 3.6)

In map labelling tasks, distractors might be places shown on the map or plan that are not mentioned in the recording, or places that are mentioned but are not correct. Use the information already provided to help orientate yourself on the map. Predict where you will start and end, and remember that the questions will be heard in order.
