“What a good book!” said Will.

The book was about a cook who was a crook and he took some wood to a brook to make a dam. He had a hood made of wool and a hook that he shook when he stood. At the brook some soot fell on his foot.

“Oh look,” said a rook, “I can see a cook who is a crook down by the brook and he has soot on his foot! That’s not very good!”

1. What was the book about?

2. Write the words with /oo/ you see in the story:
