An Unexpected Adventure

Last Saturday, I go hiking with my cousin at Bukit Broga. The weather were bright and sunny, so we decided to explore a trail that we had never visited before.

As we walked deeper into the forest, we hear a strange noise coming from behind some bushes. My cousin wanted to run away, but I was too curiouss to leave. Suddenly, a small monkey jumped out and grab my backpack.

We chased the monkey through the trees and finally reached a hidden waterfall. The waterfall was beautiful, but we dont know how to get back to the trail. We felt worried because it was getting dark.

Luckily, we found a park ranger who helped us return safely. It was the most exciting adventure I have ever experienced. Although we were tired, we was happy that everything ended well.
