

Reading Exercise – Virtual Tours

Read the text and answer the questions.

Travel from Home

Many people love traveling, but sometimes traveling is expensive. Today, technology helps people visit places online with virtual tours.

A virtual tour lets people explore famous places from their computer or smartphone. You can visit museums, cities, beaches, and tourist attractions without leaving your home.

Sofia loves virtual travel. Last week, she took a virtual tour of Paris, France. She saw the Eiffel Tower, small cafés, and beautiful streets. She also visited a museum online.

Her brother Leo prefers nature. He wants to visit Africa one day, so he watched a virtual safari tour. He saw lions, elephants, and giraffes.

Virtual tours are useful because they save time and money. They also help people learn about new countries and cultures.
