Match the sentence halves to form correct relative clauses.

1. My brother, who lives in Tokyo,	is actually my favorite author.
2. My grandmother's cake, which she bakes every Sunday,	is now closed forever.
3. The old library, where I used to study,	smells absolutely delicious
4. My best friend, whom I've known since kindergarten,	has traveled to over 30 countries.
5. This new book, which I bought yesterday,	is getting married next spring!

Combine each pair of sentences into ONE sentence using a non-defining relative clause with commas. Use who, which, where, or whom.

1. My dog is very fluffy. He loves to sleep on my bed

_____

2. My city is small. I grew up there.

_____

3. My teacher gave me an A. I admire her very much.

_____

4. This pizza is delicious. I ordered it for lunch.

_____

5. My cousin is a musician. He plays the guitar.

_____

LIVEWORKSHEETS