Modern Cities

Modern cities are the busiest places in the world. They are often difficult places to live. Many people love living in a city full of supermarkets, swimming pools, movie theaters, and shopping malls. However, it is sometimes nice to have quiet spaces, too. Cities also need places where young people can hang out. Anders Thomasson is an architect. He is working with young people to learn how to design the cities of the future.

Anders asked high school students to use popular computer games to design their perfect city. First, students worked in small groups. Then, they chose the best parts of each group's design and made their final designs. They presented their ideas to the public. Some of the best ideas had apartment buildings with gardens, and parks on the roofs of public buildings. Many also had gyms and places to hang out with friends.

Anders said: "People need to listen to teenagers and children. It is their world. They'll be the people who live in the spaces we design today."

Answer True or False.

1 Modern cities are easy places to live. False
2 Anders Thomasson is a teacher. _____
3 The students used computer games to design their cities. _____
4 The students presented their designs to other people. _____
5 The students' cities have a lot of gardens and parks. _____
