Yesterday, he was sick so my parents took him to the doctor. The doctor said he needed to eat more healthy food and do exercise. Alex didn't like the idea, but the doctor told him that he could start by doing something small. He can eat fruit instead of sweets and he can help out with the housework.

Alex was happy to hear that because it sounded easy. He told Mum and Dad that he would do what the doctor said. I'll write to you later about his progress.

Love,

Vicky
