WHICH ANIMAL IS BETTER?

Many people like animals because they are interesting and different. Some animals are bigger, faster, or stronger than others.

The elephant is bigger than the horse, and it is also heavier. The cheetah is faster than the lion, so it is one of the fastest animals in the world.

A giraffe is taller than a zebra because it has a very long neck. A rabbit is smaller than a dog, but it is very cute.

Some animals are also friendlier than others. For example, many people think that dogs are friendlier than cats. However, both animals can be wonderful pets.

Comparative adjectives help us compare two people, animals, places, or things. We often use than after comparative adjectives, such as bigger than, smaller than, faster than, and friendlier than.
