

States of Matter

1) Drag the pictures to the correct box.

 ice	 air	 plastic bag	 water	 wood
 ball	 pen	 milk	 nail	 vapour

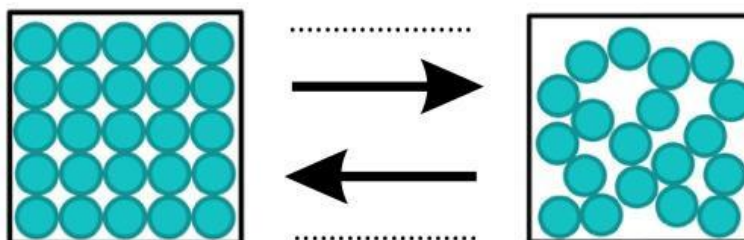

solid	liquid	gas

2) Choose if the sentences are about solids or liquids.

- have a fixed shape.
- particles can change places.
- particles have a lot of space.
- particles shake in place.
- particles move a lot.
- take the shape of their container.
- particles don't have a lot of space between them.

3) Drag the words to the correct place in the diagram.

solid particles	melting	liquid particles	solidifying
-----------------	---------	------------------	-------------

4) Look at the picture and complete the sentences.

Chocolate is in a state.
 When chocolate is, it starts to transforming into a liquid.
 We can get liquid chocolate to transform back into solid by it. The name of this process is