Passage 5

Many people enjoy drinking tea, although some may be unaware that tea is actually good for the health. Green tea, in particular, is rich in antioxidants. This chemical can help boost a person's immune system. Not only that, antioxidants also help the body fight cancer-causing elements. Drinking tea also lowers cholesterol, which keeps the heart and blood vessels healthier. Those who wish to go on a diet should also consider drinking green tea because it helps the body burn more calories.

Question

Drinking green tea is detrimental to people's well-being.

Approach

STEP 1 Identify the keywords in the statement question.

STEP 2 Find out the ideas related to those keywords in the passage.

STEP 3 Decide whether the statement is TRUE (T), FALSE (F), or NOT GIVEN (NG).

Passage 6

Dolls have been used as playthings even during ancient times. The proof is discovered in some Egyptian tombs where archeologists have excavated dolls. These were, in particular, found in the graves of children. These first dolls were said to be made of wood or clay. Some ancient dolls even had movable arms and legs, and removable clothing. Doll making became common in the 1860s, and today, children can even design their own dolls on the Internet. Creating dolls is part of the world's culture, making the doll one of the oldest and most recognized toys.

Question

Some dolls were buried with children.
