Passage 19

While people are asleep, images of events, animals, personalities or things appear in their dreams. This has led to humanity's search for the meaning of dreams and the reasons why people dream. So far, there are no definitive facts about what each element of a person's dream means. On the other hand, one reason why people dream is that dreams are manifestations of a person's feelings, aspirations and experiences. Another is that dreams help people deal with their experiences at a subconscious level. There are also many instances where an individual is able to find solutions to his problems through dreams without even knowing it.
