MONTHLY EXAM

1. READING COMPREHENSION

I work for a Travel Agency. It is my job to make sure that everything goes well for the tourists and I feel I work hard for the company.

This morning a group of tourists complained to my boss about the bad service they got on their holidays last week. I met the 25 people in the group at the airport and took them to the bus. The bus driver was a bit angry because the flight was late. The tourists were hungry, but fortunately, it wasn't far to the hotel and they knew they would have dinner soon.

We usually go to the Star Hotel. This time I knew there was a conference there and it was full. So I booked rooms in the Hotel Riviera. When I announced our arrival at the reception desk, they said they were full. The manager said someone cancelled the rooms by phone a few days before. "I can recognise your voice," he told me. "You made the phone call last Friday." We had an argument but they obviously didn't have enough rooms. The bus driver could not wait anymore and went away.

In the end the manager phoned other hotels in the town and found rooms for everyone in four different hotels. Then we had to get taxis and some people got to their hotel after midnight. Obviously some of the tourists got really furious with me. I still don't know who made that phone call but it definitely wasn't me.
