Part 4

Questions 21 – 27

Read the article about three students who entered a spelling competition and then answer the questions.

For questions 21 – 27, mark A, B or C on your answer sheet.

Spelling success

Ian Billingsworth

Ian has loved reading since he started school at five. He wanted to get every word right in the competition and only made one mistake! "That was OK," he said, "because it was the hardest word in the competition." Ian reads one of his many dictionaries before going to sleep each night. He enjoys that more than reading stories and wants to teach English one day like his mother. He won second prize.

Elsa Sinita

"It was the least difficult word that I had a problem with!" Elsa laughed. "My mum was really surprised. She's a journalist, and she's helped me with spelling since I was little, but I suppose everyone makes mistakes sometimes." Elsa stayed awake all night before the competition because she was worrying about the questions. She couldn't believe that she came third. Elsa thinks checking words online is easier than looking in dictionaries, so she doesn't use one. She prefers writing on her laptop to reading books.

Roger Ames

Roger's English teacher wasn't surprised when Roger spelled every word, including some really difficult ones, correctly. "Roger likes using his grandfather's old dictionary at school. He used it to practise almost every day. His parents, all his other teachers and I were really happy that he won." Roger was taught to read when he was only three and hopes to write stories for a newspaper one day.
