Woman: Oh, that's nice, David.

David: Do you like it?

Woman: It goes really well in this room.

David: Well, it'll be useful when I lots of people to my new . We can all sit down together.

Woman: You can have dinner parties!

David: It's big enough for six people. I just need more chairs now.

Man: Good morning, everyone. The are on at our clothes . Get your new at 50% off. Now, at the food and drinks department, a juice bar has just opened. Taste their delicious drinks today. Finally, for those who want to buy a new or their old one, visit Tom's Bikes on the second floor.

Man: We were so lucky we got these last-minute .

Woman: Yeah. But a home would be much faster and more than a train ride. We should have booked earlier; it was too expensive.

Man: It could be worse! Last time we had to catch a bus home. It took us 9 hours to get back and we were too tired to go to work the next day.

Woman: I spoke to my friend Delilah, the doctor, and she seemed a bit to me. Her son told her that he was interested in becoming a football player when he finishes school. He's really good at football and his tells him he could play for an important team one day. I guess Delilah always hoped he would like to do what she does.

Boy: Did you watch that new programme last night?

Girl: No, I wanted to watch the about bears after my dad watched the news.

Boy: Oh, the news is so boring. My older brother always watches it. My mum and I laughed a lot during the show. It was called Crazy Cookies.

Girl: That's an interesting name... The was amazing in the documentary.
