

Name: _____

Class: _____

Before doing the exercise, read the following text to get the information.

THE TALE OF PRINCESS JUNJUNG BUIH

In the Kingdom of Amuntai, South Kalimantan, King Patmaraga and his younger brother, King Sukmaraga, ruled the kingdom peacefully. King Sukmaraga and his wife had twin sons, but King Patmaraga did not have any children. He felt sad and prayed to the Almighty for help. One night, King Patmaraga had a dream. He was told to meditate at the Great Temple outside the kingdom.

After meditating, he found a baby floating on the river. The baby could speak and asked to be picked up by 40 beautiful women and given a blanket woven in half a day. Datuk Pujung, the palace advisor, organized a competition to make the blanket, but no one succeeded in the specified time. Then, a woman named Ratu Kuripan gave a woven cloth to cover the baby. King Patmaraga adopted the baby and named her Putri Junjung Buih. She grew up to be a beautiful and smart princess.

Answer the following questions based on the text.

1. Where did King Patmaraga rule?

4. Who gave a woven cloth to cover the baby?

2. Who was King Patmaraga's brother?

5. What was the baby's name?

3. What did King Patmaraga find in the river?

Read the statements and write True or False based on the text.

6. King Patmaraga had twin sons.

8. Ratu Kuripan gave a woven cloth to the baby.

7. King Patmaraga found a baby floating on the river. 9. Putri Junjung Buih grew up to be a princess.

10. The story teaches us to give up when things are difficult.

