

John Escott: Young detective (part 4)

David walked _____ college. He went _____ the factory gates and saw Jeff Garner _____ beside a car. The car was waiting to go to into the factory. Jeff was looking at something.
He's looking at the driver's _____ pass,
David thought. The driver works in the factory.
All the factory workers had passes to get in and _____ of the gates. David watched Jeff Garner give the pass back to the driver. Then the car went on into the factory and Jeff came _____ to David.

"Hallo, David," he said. "Are you going to college?"

"Yes," David said.

"I'm going home _____," Jeff said. He was tired.

Next to the gate there was _____ office.
A man came out of it. It was Alec Reed, the other _____ guard.

"I am going home to bed," Alec Reed said to Jeff.
He looked at David and smiled. It was _____ a nice smile. "Hello, it's the young detective."

David _____ not smile back.

Alec Reed laughed. "See you _____," he said to Jeff.

And he walked away _____ the road.

"Sorry," Jeff said to David. "I told him you want to be a detective and he thought it was funny. I was wrong to say _____."

"I don't like him," David said.

"I can see you don't," Jeff Garner said _____.

He looked at his watch. "The _____ guards are coming soon, then I can go home."

A LITTLE

ACROSS

ANYTHING

DAYTIME

DOWN

DID

LAUGHING

NIGHT

NOT

OUT

PAST

SECURITY

SOON

STANDING

TONIGHT

TOWARDS