HAVING A GOOD CONVERSATION

LIFE SKILLS

To have good conversation, you should remember that:

- when only one person talks and the other listens, it is not a conversation!
- some people are quiet, some people like talking more.
- a good conversation includes everyone.

Good conversations

Imagine you have to spend an hour with a student you don't know from another class. Maybe you're going to take a test, or you're waiting to see the head teacher. For some people, it's a difficult situation because you don't know the person very well. For other people, it's easy to start a conversation and say, for example, How are you? or Are you nervous?

Talking to an older person can be even more difficult. For example, your parents' friends or aunts, uncles or grandparents. Sometimes they ask all the questions and you only answer! The best way to manage this is to think of questions to ask the other person. People like to talk about their experiences and to give an opinion about things.

Group conversations are also difficult to manage sometimes, but there are some easy ways to make sure everyone speaks, including yourself! If you are a person who can talk easily, then think about the others in the group. If you notice one person is not speaking, then ask them a question. A simple And you? or Why? Or show interest – Really?

When you are in a group and everyone is talking at the same time, it is sometimes hard to interrupt, especially if you think this is not a polite thing to do. When you want to give your own opinion politely, you can use Excuse me, can I say something? Then other people know you have something to say.

We can all learn to have good conversations.

4 Read the text again and match the two halves of the sentences.

- 1 To start a conversation with someone you don't know well
 - 2 To have a good conversation with someone
 - 3 To help quiet people to speak
 - 4 To give your opinion when other people are talking
- a you should ask him/her questions as well as answer.
 - b you should interrupt politely.
 - c you can ask how they feel.
 - d you can ask them a question.

PROJECT

A time capsule

You are going to make a time capsule that you will open in two years' time.

- Work in small groups.
- In your group discuss these questions:
 - What will you make the time capsule with: a box, a bag, a tin?
 - How will you decorate it? Will you write anything on it?
 - Where will you keep it? Remember, in two years you are going to open it.
 - What will you put in it?

Draw your time capsule and present it to the rest of the class.
