

Man: And what about your sister – does she like pizza too?

Boy: Yes, but it's not her favourite.

Man: What's her favourite then?

Boy: She likes chocolate best.

Man: I think your mother likes sweet things too.

Boy: Yes, she does. But she likes cheese more. She eats it a lot.

Man: Does she? That's good.

Man: And what does your uncle like?

Boy: Oh, he eats anything. But I think his favourite is burgers.

Man: Yes, burgers are good.

Man: I've seen your cousin eating a lot of fruit. Are bananas her favourite?

Boy: She likes them, but I think her favourite is pineapple.

Man: Oh yes, I've seen her eat that too.

Man: And your grandma lives with you, doesn't she?

Boy: That's right.

Man: What's her favourite food?

Boy: She likes cakes best. She makes them for our birthdays and she's very good at it.
