Living in the Ice Age

I'm a scientist and I arrived here in Antarctica three months ago in December. The temperature is cold but not unpleasant yet. Since arriving, I've worked with about 60 other people getting everything ready for the Antarctic winter. It's been a lot of hard work, but it was fun too. However, a few days ago the ship left taking most of the staff with it, and it won't be back to fetch us until next December. So the hardest thing to get used to is that there are now just fourteen of us because I'm used to working in a large company.

I'm living on the same work station I was on ten years ago. It was new then and it's still in good condition and unchanged. The dried food we get is also the same - you forget what real food tastes like after a few weeks. The people working here with me are all different from then, but I'm always happy getting to know new people. Ten years ago, we were able to send taxes to friends and family once a month, but today we can send e-mails and talk on the phone so we don't feel so far away.

Last week we went out exploring for a few days. We slept in our very thick sleeping bags to keep the cold out. We always have to wear the right clothes and boots for walking on ice and snow. We were joined together by a rope all the time in case we fell into any holes in the ice. They're too deep to climb out of. The skies were clear and I was reminded how lucky I am to be here. Soon we will get amazing sunsets too.

Question 12 (Question ID: 99-190996)

Football stars at school

Can you imagine being a famous football star but still attending school? That's what some students at Ashton-on-Mersey School in England do!

The school is about 7 km from Old Trafford, the famous sports stadium that is home to Manchester United Football Club. The club takes talented teenagers from all over the world. Q12.1.....

But even though they are following their dreams of becoming sports stars, football clubs recognize that education should still be an important part of their lives. Q12.2..... Although footballers can play professionally from the age of 16, most don't join professional teams until they are older.

All football clubs have to make sure that players who are under 18 are getting an education, but many choose to do this by organizing classes at the club. At Manchester United, however, young players go to a normal school. Q12.3..... That's why at Ashton-on-Mersey School you can see people who played against Arsenal or Liverpool on Saturday sitting down to classes with all the other students on Monday morning.

The Manchester United students have classes two days a week and study a range of subjects. While attending, they are encouraged to feel like they are part of the school. They still follow the rules like all the other pupils there. Q12.4.....

There are many benefits to the school from their arrangement with Manchester United. The football club has given money to the school. Q12.5..... Perhaps more importantly, seeing successful young players in the school can encourage younger students to try hard to do well and achieve their own dreams. Successful players often return to visit the school. When one French-speaking player came back, the students were all keen to ask him questions in French! Chatting to an international football star really helped them improve their language skills.

A BOOK I RECOMMEND

I found Escape from Time by Andy Treen very exciting and I really (0) enjoy reading it. It's a story about a boy called Troy who goes on a journey to Q13.1..... for his friend Zyra. It wasn't what I had expected, although I am interested in science fiction. I thought this story would be like films I had seen, but I Q13.2..... after a few pages that it was Q13.3..... interesting than a film.

Troy goes to many places and times. He Q13.4..... his knowledge with different kinds of people and learns new skills from them. Then he moves on. The last part of the book Q13.5..... the meeting between Troy and Zyra when they are both caught by some space criminals from the future. But that's enough information from me because I don't want to spoil it for you. It's really quite Q13.6....., too, with some excellent jokes about time travel in it.

My big brother

In my blog post today, I want to tell you about my big brother, Steve. He's four years older Q14.1..... me and he's my only brother. I don't have any sisters. We get on well Q14.2..... each other, despite the difference in our ages. He's in his final year at high school and he wants to study languages when he goes to university next year. He's really good Q14.3..... learning new languages. He Q14.4..... already learned to speak three (English, French and German) and wants to learn Russian and Japanese too.

I Q14.5..... miss him when he goes away next year. We often do things together. Last week, for example, we went to the cinema together. The film we both wanted to see wasn't on anymore, so we ended Q14.6..... watching something that wasn't very good. But we had fun together anyway like we always do.
