

Read this email from your English-speaking friend Blake and the notes you have made.

● ● ● Reply Forward

From: Blake
Subject: New shopping centre

Hi!

Do you remember we talked about going to that new shopping centre? Well, my brother says he'll take us there this weekend if we want.

Great! My brother can go on either day, so which day is better for you? Say which day

Suggest It's actually my brother's birthday soon, so I'd like to buy him present while we're there - what do you think I should get him? Explain to Blake

There's a cinema very near the shopping centre and ice skating too. We could do one of those after we've finished shopping. Which would you prefer?

See you soon

Blake

Write your email to Blake, using all the notes, in about 100 words.

This image shows a full page of white paper with horizontal dashed lines, typical of primary school writing paper. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the entire width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings present.