A Difficult Day at School

Yesterday was an important day for Ben. He had to give a presentation in front of his class. Before the lesson, he felt very _____ because he didn't like speaking in front of many people.

His friend Max told him not to worry and reminded him that he had prepared well. After that, Ben felt a little more _____.

During the presentation, Ben forgot one of his sentences. He felt really _____, especially when some students started looking at him. However, he continued and finished his presentation.

His teacher was very _____ of him because he didn't give up. Ben was also _____ to Max for helping him.

Later that day, Ben got his maths test back. He had expected a good mark, so he was very _____ when he saw the result.

His teacher explained his mistakes, but Ben became _____ because he thought some of the questions were unfair. Ben can sometimes be quite _____ and doesn't easily change his opinion.

Luckily, his teacher was very _____ and explained everything again.

On his way home, Ben found a wallet on the ground. Being naturally _____, he wanted to know who it belonged to, but he didn't open it. Instead, he took it to the police station.

The owner was extremely _____ when she got it back. She even offered Ben some money, but he refused. Ben's mother wasn't surprised. She knew that her son was very _____ and could always be trusted.

LIVEWORKSHEETS