

SUMMIT 2: UNIT 5 LESSON 2³³

F: Hey, you've got to see this! I just can't tell you how hysterical it is.

M: What is it?

F: Here. Look at this cartoon. Isn't it hilarious? Seriously, what do you think?

M: Oh, that's too much. Look at the passengers just sitting there not saying anything. They're not even surprised that the airline would charge them money for oxygen! What magazine is this anyway?

F: Chicago Week.

M: This week's issue?

F: Yup.

M: Great! We have that at home. I can't wait to show it to my wife. By the way, have you seen this funny video clip of the cat flushing the toilet?

F: Let me see. That's priceless. You know, I saw another day one of a cat that cracked me up.

M: What was it doing?

F: Actually, it was a commercial for energy conservation. Someone had trained a cat to jump up on the wall and hit the light switch to turn off the lights. Can you believe that?

M: That's funny. And I didn't realize you could train cats to do things.

F: Neither did I! I could just watch that clip over and over. I guess I find it funny when animals do things you expect people to do.

M: Totally.
