

WEATHER AROUND THE WORLD

A. DURING READING • Read the text carefully. (Lee)

WEATHER IS DIFFERENT AROUND THE WORLD

People experience very different weather depending on where they live. In Ayacucho, Peru, the year is strongly influenced by a rainy season and a dry season. During the rainy season, the sky is often cloudy and the afternoons can be rainy. During the dry season, days are usually sunny, while mornings and nights can be cold.

In Tokyo, Japan, people experience four clear seasons. Spring is usually mild and colorful. Summer is hot and humid. Autumn is cool, and winter can be very cold with snow in some areas. People change their clothes according to the season.

London, in the United Kingdom, is famous for its cool and changeable weather. It can be cloudy or rainy during the year, and windy days are common.

In Cairo, Egypt, the climate is much hotter and drier. Summers can be extremely hot, and rain is uncommon. These examples show that seasons and weather are not the same everywhere.

B. AFTER READING • Answer the questions. (Responde)

- What two periods strongly influence the year in Ayacucho?

- What is Tokyo's summer usually like? _____
- Which city is described as cool, rainy and changeable? _____
- Why do people in Tokyo change their clothes?

- Which place has a hotter and drier climate: London or Cairo?

c. Circle True or False.

- ☐ True ☐ False : Ayacucho has snow throughout the year.
- ☐ True ☐ False : Windy days are common in London.
- ☐ True ☐ False : In Ayacucho, dry-season days are usually rainy.

C. FIND & MATCH • Connect each place with its description.

- | | | |
|------------|---|---------------------------------|
| 1 Ayacucho | • | • a. Very hot and dry |
| 2 Tokyo | • | • b. Four seasons |
| 3 London | • | • c. Rainy and dry periods |
| 4 Cairo | • | • d. Cool, rainy and changeable |

